

Karl Newson

Children's Author/Illustrator

Karl began drawing from an early age; filling sketchbooks at home, at school, and on the go. He found a liking for words when he began writing songs to the three chords he could play on his guitar. The pace and rhythm planted a seed, which one day, when matched with a doodle, made everything make sense.

Karl enjoys stargazing, and is rather fond of biscuits, elephants and the moon (in no particular order). He lives in the far-away land of Norwich, Norfolk.
