Biography

Diane is a multi-BAFTA nominated and Emmy nominated actor, writer and director.

Best known for her incarnation of professional dim-wit 'Philomena Cunk', a role Diane has played in various incarnations over the last decade. The most recent being Emmy nominated comedy special 'Cunk on Life' which aired on BBC and Netflix and was beloved by audiences worldwide.

Diane played the regular role of Liz in critically acclaimed and BAFTA winning comedy series 'Motherland', the show is an audience favourite and ran for three series on the BBC. She also starred as Kath in Ricky Gervais' hit comedy 'After Life', all 3 series available on Netflix.

Diane created, writes, directs and stars in 'Mandy', a comedy series about Mandy Carter, a hapless, jobless heroine whose daft adventures mostly end in disaster. All 4 series available on BBC iPlayer.

Other notable acting credits include Fiona in Series 1 and 2 of 'Frayed' (Sky/HBO Max), Netflix comedy specials 'Death to 2020' and 'Death To 2021' alongside Samuel L. Jackson, Hugh Grant and Lisa Kudrow; 'The Completely Made Up Adventures of Dick Turpin' (Apple), 'Intelligence' (Sky), 'Cockfields' (UKTV) and 'Rovers'

(Sky).

Diane recently appeared in Oscar nominated 'Wallace & Gromit: Vengeance Most Fowl' and will also appear in Duncan Jones' hotly anticipated film 'Rogue Trooper'.
