Biography

Sharon is a writer, actor, producer and director best known for her BAFTA-award winning, critically acclaimed shows Bad Sisters and Catastrophe which she co-created, wrote, executive produced and starred in. BAD SISTERS (Apple TV) received multiple BAFTA awards (including best drama series) and four primetime Emmy nominations. The second series released in November 2024 and was met with similar critical acclaim including a best actress nomination for Sharon at the 2025 Emmys. Further accolades include the BAFTA for Best Writing in a Comedy Series for CATASTROPHE in 2016 which gained three further BAFTA nominations for her extraordinary performance in the show, alongside a Primetime Emmy Award Nomination for Outstanding Writing for a Comedy Series.

Sharon is currently working on her new untitled comedy series for HBO which she created, is writing, executive producing and starring in.

Sharon is also creator of the award winning shows PULLING and DIVORCE for HBO starring Sarah Jessica Parker and the co-creator of MOTHERLAND, AMANDALAND and SHINING VALE.

As well as being a multi-BAFTA award-winning actress, writer, producer, and director, Sharon Horgan is a co-founder of production company, Merman. At Merman, she has executive produced hit shows including the BAFTA nominated MOTHERLAND (BBC) and its acclaimed spin-off AMANDALAND (BBC); THERE SHE GOES (BBC/Britbox) and VLADIMIR (Netflix).
