

Talulah Riley

Actress/Writer

Talulah Riley's fiction debut, ACTS OF LOVE, was published by Hodder & Stoughton in August 2016 and is available in six territories. It was then followed by THE QUICKENING (Hodder), a powerful feminist dystopian story, in 2022.

Agents

Millie Hoskins

mhoskins@unitedagents.co.uk

Assistant

Melissa Tombere

MTombere@UnitedAgents.co.uk

Publications

Fiction

| Publication Details | Notes |
|---|--|
| ACTS OF LOVE 2016 Hodder & Stoughton | Bernadette is expert at hiding the truth. She has built her career as a journalist on her talent for lulling powerful men into a false sense of security, then exposing them in her ruthless profile pieces. But in Radley Blake, she may have met her match. Immune to her charms, he seems to see through every layer of her carefully constructed act: right to the truth of who she is inside. We think we're looking for love - but what if it's ourselves we need to find? Talulah Riley's wonderful first novel is an irresistible will-they-won't-they tale that asks how it is we can strive for independence, but still believe in destiny... |

| Publication Details | Notes |
|--|---|
| THE QUICKENING 2022 Hodder & Stoughton | 'Does the world seem right, to you?' Years ago, Dana Mayer had a vision of a better world: one where women are in charge. Now her manifesto, The Quicken ing, has established the rules for a new order, designed to elevate and protect women. A genteel and peaceful society that prioritises nature, good manners and aesthetics. Of course, in order for women to maintain control, the freedoms of men have been necessarily limited. Arthur Alden loves Dana Mayer but hates the world she has created. But can he find a way to resist, without losing everything? And with Dana intent on making men pay reparations for their past crimes, can Arthur be allowed to live without punishment? |
