

Dix

Writer / Illustrator

Dix is an artist, illustrator and comics creator. He is best known for his Roll Up! Roll Up! strips in the Guardian.

Dix does a lot of work for Selfmadehero, Britain's best respected publisher of graphic novels. Dix and writer Si Spencer created the weird and wonderful Klaxon and he has also contributed stories to It's Dark In London and, most recently, The Jeremy Corbyn Comic.

For Dix, drawing is like therapy, though he never gets any better. Dix lives and works in Hay-on-Wye, Wales.

Publication Details	Notes
Dull Margaret 2018 Fantagraphics	Inspired by Dulle Griet (aka Mad Meg), Pieter Bruegel's 16th-century painting of a 'strong, intense woman striding determinedly across a violent landscape,' Dull Margaret is the first graphic novel by Academy Award winning-actor Jim Broadbent (Harry Potter, Game of Thrones) and artist Dix (best known for his comics in the Guardian). The Dulle Griet painting shows a breastplated woman with a sword in one hand in front of the mouth of hell, and Broadbent uses that single, vivid image as a launching point to explore what the rest of Dull Margaret's bleak existence may have been like.
