

Sarah Peverley

Author

Sarah Peverley is an award-winning cultural historian, broadcaster, and an internationally renowned expert on medieval history and mermaids. She is Professor of English at the University of Liverpool, where she teaches a wide range of literature and history, specialising in the Medieval and Renaissance periods, historical writing, and mythological creatures. In 2013, she was named a BBC New Generation Thinker. She regularly contributes to television documentaries and broadcasts on national and international radio.

Agents

Ariella Feiner

Assistant

Amber Garvey

AGarvey@unitedagents.co.uk

+44 (0) 20 3214 0864