

Lina Scheynius

Lina Scheynius is a photographer and writer based in London. Born in 1981 in Vänersborg, Sweden, Lina first starting taking photographs on her father's camera. At 16, she left home to study and soon began a career as a model, but after becoming disillusioned with the experience, she turned the camera on herself and those closest to her. Since then, her work has gained an international following and her self-produced books are highly sought-after collectibles which quickly sell out.
