

Paul Lay

Paul Lay is the editor of History Today. His book PROVIDENCE LOST: THE RISE & FALL OF CROMWELL'S PROTECTORATE has been shortlisted for the 2020 Cundill History Prize and The Sunday Times list of Best History Books of the Year 2020.

Agents

Charles Walker
cwalker@unitedagents.co.uk
+44 (0) 20 3214 0874

Associate Agent
Olivia Martin
omartin@unitedagents.co.uk
+44 (0) 20 3214 0778

Publications

Non-Fiction

Publication Details	Notes
PROVIDENCE LOST: THE RISE & FALL OF CROMWELL'S PROTECTORATE 2020 Head of Zeus	Shortlisted for the 2020 Cundill History Prize and the Sunday Times list of Best History Books of the Year 2020. The Cundill History Prize honours the abiding passion for history of founder, F. Peter Cundill; encouraging informed public debate through the wider dissemination of history writing to audiences around the world.