

Andy Sagar

Children's Author

Andy recently graduated from Cambridge in Law – a subject he enjoyed, even if he often spent lectures daydreaming about the stories he wanted to write one day. His passion for academic work led him to pursue his PhD on the role of the law in the witch-hunts, and this research has helped inspire his fiction. He grew up in Yorkshire, surrounded by green fields and cows, and now lives in London (which has fewer cows but more bookshops).

Agents

Emily Talbot

etalbot@unitedagents.co.uk