

Rebecca Lewis-Oakes

Children's Author

Rebecca is a versatile children's author living in London. She grew up in Oxford, Belfast and Cheshire, returning to Oxford for university where she studied Classics. Having worked as an editor in publishing for over ten years before going freelance, Rebecca has written and ghostwritten a number of young fiction, joke books and activity books. Her first non-fiction title under her own name will be published in June 2022.

Agents

Emily Talbot

etalbot@unitedagents.co.uk