

Bobby Palmer

Writer - fiction

Bobby Palmer is a freelance journalist and has written extensively for household titles such as Time Out, GQ, Esquire, Men's Health and Cosmopolitan.

His debut novel, ISAAC AND THE EGG, was published by Headline in 2022 and was an instant Saturday Times Bestseller. German, Spanish, Dutch, Czech, Lithuanian, Hebrew and Russian foreign language rights have also been sold. Bobby's second novel, SMALL HOURS, was published in March 2024 and his third novel will be released in summer 2026.

Praise for ISAAC AND THE EGG:

Agents

Millie Hoskins
mhoskins@unitedagents.co.uk

Assistant
Melissa Tombere
MTombere@UnitedAgents.co.uk

Publications

Fiction

Publication Details	Notes
------------------------	-------

ISAAC & THE EGG

2022

Headline

Heartbreaking and heart-stealing, this modern-day fable is an unforgettable novel about sorrow, joy, friendship and love.

It is early. A young man stands on a bridge and lets out a heart-wrenching scream. From deep in the woods, something screams back.

It sounds improbable. But this is how Isaac meets the egg.

The two are unlikely companions. But their chance encounter will transform Isaac's life in ways he cannot yet imagine.

Maybe he will finally understand why he went there that morning. Maybe he will find a way to tell the truth.

Sometimes, to get out of the woods, you have to go into them.

SMALL HOURS

2024

Headline

If you stood before sunrise in this wild old place, looking through the trees into the garden, here's what you'd see:

A father and son, a fox standing between them.

Jack, home for the first time in years, still determined to be the opposite of his father.

Gerry, who would rather talk to animals than the angry man back under his roof.

Everything that follows is because of the fox, and because Jack's mother is missing. It spans generations of big dreams and lost time, unexpected connections and things falling apart, great wide worlds and the moments that define us.

If you met them in the small hours, you'd begin to piece together their story.
