

Aaron Kilercioglu

Writer / Director

Raised in Vienna by Turkish-Canadian parents, Aaron is a writer and director based in London. This blend of cultures illustrates his ability to translate between English, German, and Turkish. His most recent play THE E.U. KILLED MY DAD, won the Woven Voices Prize and is due to be staged at the Jermyn Street Theatre in January. His previous play, FOR A PALESTINIAN, enjoyed a sell-out 3-week run at the Camden People's Theatre, before transferring to, and selling out, the Bristol Old Vic Theatre. Both are published with Methuen Drama.

Agents

Christian Ogunbanjo

Assistant

Jocelyn Waddell

JWaddell@unitedagents.co.uk

Talia Tobias

ttobias@unitedagents.co.uk

Credits

In Development

Production	Company	Notes
THE E.U. KILLED MY DAD 2024	Jermyn Street Theatre & Woven Voices	Writer Winner of the Woven Voices Prize
KULUP 2024	Zorlu PSM, Istanbul	Writer
NOVUCOIN 2024	Eleanor Lloyd Company	Writer
UNTITLED FEATURE FILM 2024	Karga7	Writer

Short Films

Production	Company	Notes
ONE OF THOSE DAYS 2023		Writer & Director Straight8
100 DAYS SINCE 2018	CFA	Director Oaxaca Film Festival

Theatre

Production	Company	Notes
A GUEST 2023	Vault Festival	Writer
FOR A PALESTINIAN 2022	Bristol Old Vic & Camden People's Theatre	Co-writer & Director