

Sai Pathmanathan

Children's Author

Sai used to be a neuroscientist but moved into science communication and education because she loved creatively communicating science to all. Sai often combines wordplay, comical imagery and humour into her workshops and resources to engage young people with science, especially around the topics of food, health and the environment.

Agents

Emily Talbot

etalbot@unitedagents.co.uk