

Mr Dilly

Children's Author

Marcus Dilly is a writer, educator and performer whose enthusiasm for stories in all their forms has delighted audiences for over 15 years online and in person, including his popular online show Mr Dilly Meets. Sharing his passion for history, Marcus has written and performed shows in schools and at events across the UK and beyond. He is excited to be bringing his unique, interactive style to the page, celebrating the wonder of the world of history and showing children (and perhaps some grown-ups) why it really matters. And maybe encourage some more bowler-hat wearing along the way!
