

Eamonn Sweeney

Author

Eamonn Sweeney was born in 1968 in the nearly hurling-free county of Sligo - a deficiency remedied by his hurling-mad father from Kilkenny. He has written on GAA for the Irish Examiner for a number of years and is the author of two novels, THE PHOTOGRAPH and WAITING FOR THE HEALER, a book on soccer, THERE'S ONLY ONE RED ARMY, and a play BRUEN'S TWIST. Eamonn lives in Cork and regularly broadcasts on RTE radio and television on a wide variety of topics. Sport, however, remains his first love.

Publications

Other

Publication Details	Notes
TITLE: there's only one red army 1997 new island books	TITLE: waiting for the healer ISBN- Publisher: picador Published: 21 march 1997
TITLE: munster hurling legends 2002 obrien	TITLE: the photograph ISBN- 0-330-48043-X Publisher: picador Published: 25 may 2000