

Donald Sturrock

Author

Donald Sturrock grew up in England and South America and, after leaving Oxford University, joined BBC Television's Music and Arts Department in 1983, where he worked as writer, producer and director.

He has made more than 30 documentaries, including biographical features about William Trevor, Robert Graves, Jennifer Johnston and Roald Dahl.

Agents

Caroline Dawnay

Assistant

Eleanor Horn

EHorn@unitedagents.co.uk