

Jennifer Perrott

Director

Jennifer Perrott is an award-winning writer & director for television and film, who moved to the UK to live and work after beginning her career in Australia. She most recently directed RAIN DOGS, starring Daisy May Cooper, for Sid Gentle/BBC/HBO. The series was extremely well received, with Time Magazine naming it among the Ten Best Television Series of 2023. Jennifer's other UK credits include Sally Wainwright's GENTLEMAN JACK, starring Suranne Jones, for Lookout Point/BBC/HBO.

Jennifer is currently in late development on the feature film BOYCHIK, which she has co-originated, and which was selected for development at the prestigious The Write Retreat lab in Mallorca, Spain, in 2023. The project is planned to shoot in 2025.

Jennifer first came to international attention with her highly acclaimed theatrical short film THE RAVENS, starring Emmy award-winning actress Sarah Snook (Succession), which Jennifer directed, wrote and produced, and which earned her best direction and best short film awards at numerous festivals around the world, including Grand Jury Prize at the Academy Award-qualifying Heartland Film Festival (USA). The film screened at over 70 festivals, and also earned Jennifer nominations at both the Australian Directors' Guild and Australian Writers' Guild Awards. (A full list of screenings and festival awards can be found here: <https://jenniferperrott.com/project/the-ravens/>).

In Australia, Jennifer's directing credits include long-running hit dramedy OFFSPRING, Australian Broadcasting Corporation's NEWTON'S LAW, and SECRET BRIDESMAID'S BUSINESS starring Abbie Cornish (Three Billboards Outside Ebbing, Missouri).

Jennifer attended Amsterdam's prestigious Binger Lab as writer/director with her feature WINTER SUN, also a semi-finalist in the International BlueCat Screenplay competition.

Jennifer began her career as an assistant editor, later graduating from the Directing course at The Australian Film, Television and Radio School (AFTRS) and from the University of Technology Sydney (UTS) with a communications degree in film theory. Growing up on Australia's wild and remote south-east coast, and later living for a decade in The Netherlands, Monaco, France and now England, has given Jennifer a love for and fascination with nature and landscape, often a featured signature of her visual work.
